

BROOKLANDS TECHNICAL COLLEGE

New year. New look. New beginnings.

As part of the multi-million redevelopment of the College's Weybridge site, we are pleased to announce a new name and look to mark an exciting new chapter in the College's history.

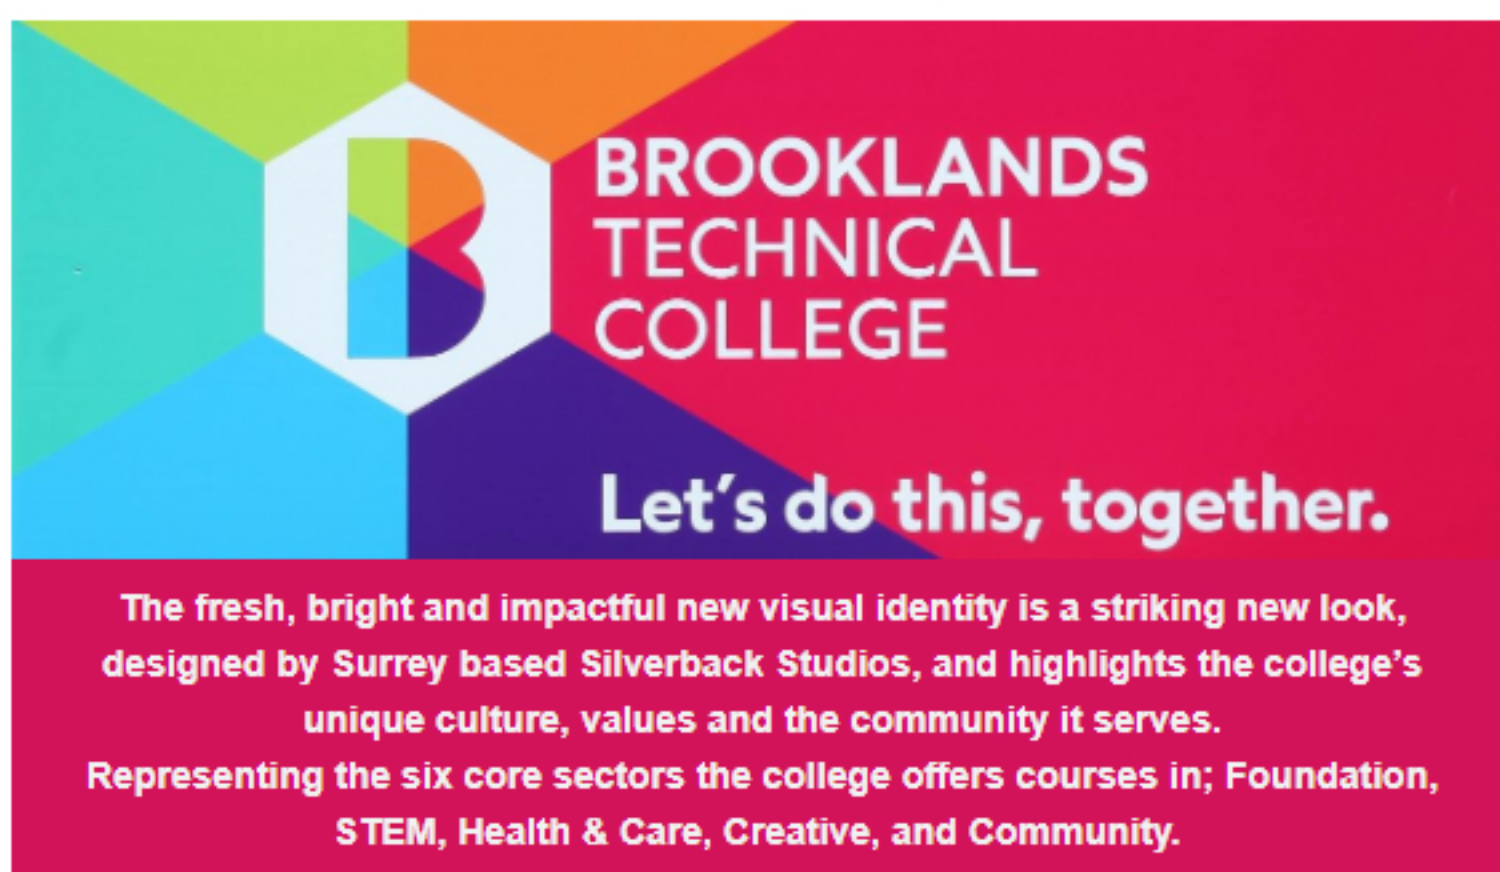

Founded in 1951 as Brooklands Technical College the College has decided to return to its roots and revert to this name, emphasising our laser-like focus on the provision of technical skills needed by both young people and adults in the world of work. The new name also seeks to highlight the college's strength in the provision of several new T-levels, providing high level technical skills as the industry equivalent of A-levels.

"The need for high quality technical skills has never been greater and Brooklands Technical College is perfectly placed to be able to support young people and adults from across the region to gain these vital skills. Once complete the redevelopment of our Weybridge campus will provide the very latest in facilities, an enhanced experience for students and a host of new public and commercial facilities for local residents. The works have been meticulously planned so as to minimise the impact on current students."
